A GREAT MAN GONE.

Death of Ex-Attorney General Henry C. McCormick

AT HIS WILLIAMSPORT HOME

Attorney General in Ex-Governor Hasting's Cabinet—Backed Hastings in His Famous Vetoes—Soldier's Friend in Congress.

A FEARLESS PUBLIC OFFICIAL

WILLIAMSPORT, May 28.—The tolling of the bells on the fire engine houses announced to the people of Williamsport that ex-Attorney General Henry C. McCormick had died at 2.10 o'clock Monday afternoon.

The whole city is in mourning, and telegrams of condolence are pouring in from all parts of the State.

Since Sunday evening he had been unconscious. Monday morning Dr. Tyson the Philadelphia specialist, announced that there was no possible chance for saving the distinguished patient's life and departed for home.

The funeral will take place today at 3 P. M., at the house, 620 West Fourth street.

SEARCH FOR HIS DAUGHTER.

Ever since last Friday efforts have been made to locate Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Cochran, the latter a daughter of General McCormick, who are in Europe, but none of the many cablegrams have reached them. Sunday word was telegraphed a New York firm to locate Mrs. Nellie McCormick Cochran at any cost.

On Saturday next Mr. and Mrs. McCormick were to have met their daughter and son-in law in London, but the sudden illness of the former interfered with the plan.

Blood poisoning, with Bright's disease, was the cause of Mr. McCormick's death. His illness was of less than a week's duration, as only last week he was at Senator J. Henry Cochran's country home in Virginia, and he attended to business after his return.

A FEARLESS PUBLIC OFFICIAL.

Mr. McCormick was distinguished in the practice of law, in business and in public life. In politics he was a Republican, although his father and brothers were Democrats. He was utterly fearless in championing the right. This trait of his character was illustrated no more forcibly than during his incumbency as Attorney General, under Governor Hastings, from 1895 to 1899. He saved the State thousands and thousands of dollars by his consistent opposition of the Quay machine and its operations.

Mr. McCormick helped exposed the infamous indemnity bond scandal by driving from the office of Deputy Attorney General, John P. Elkin, one of the signers, and encouraging Governor Hastings in the dismissal of General Frank Reeder, another signer, from the office of Secretary of the Commonwealth.

He declined to accept the salary of $600 annually illegally voted to each of the members of the Board of Accounts, and a similar amount voted to members of the Board of Property. He also refused to allow the roll of employes in his department to be increased during his term.

BACKED HASTINGS IN VETOES.

As the confidential adviser of Governor Hastings he cast his influence against the numerous fake expense bills, salary grabs and other vicious legislation of 1897, which the Governor vetoed.

He also aided the Governor in uncovering the padded pay rolls of the Senate and House of Representatives in the '97 session, and assisted in preparing the Governor's reasons for vetoing portions of these items.

Mr. McCormick fought the original Capitol commission in its attempt to set aside the original plan of competition by the terms of which the Commonwealth could have built a creditable State House for $550,000, the amount appropriated by the Legislature of 1897.

He established the system, which has since been adopted by the Auditor General, by which hundreds of delinquent corporations have been forced to pay taxes due the State. He inaugurated numerous other reforms in the Attorney General's office.

SOLDIER'S FRIEND IN CONGRESS.

After he left office the managers of the machine tried to conciliate him by the offer of a seat on the Supreme Court Bench, but he spurned it.

His Republicanism was not of the kind that could tolerate the outrages committed by the Legislature of 1901, the Supreme Court scandals and the nomination by the machine of the Potter-Harris ticket. He joined in the fusion movement, and in the Union party State convention at Philadelphia last September he made the speech placing Judge Harmon Yerkes in nomination for the Supreme Court against Governor Stone's former partner and appointee, Judge Potter.

In this speech, referring to the action of the Supreme Court in sustaining the constitutionality of the Pittsburg ripper bill, by a vote of four to three he declared that the ripper decision had done more to destroy the faith of the people in the sanctity of the judiciary than the decision of that court in any previous case.

Henry Clay McCormick was born on a farm in Washington township, Lycoming county, June 30, 1844. He was the elder son of Seth and Ellen McCormick. By teaching school he acquired the means to help him through college, and in 1866 he was admitted to the bar. Later his brother Seth T. became associated with him.

He served two terms as City Solicitor of Williamsport, and in 1886 was elected to Congress. Two years later he was returned to Washington, leading the Presidential ticked by 254 votes. In Congress he was an earnest advocate of liberal pensions, and introduced a measure providing for every soldier who served eight months or more a pension of $8 a month. Largely through his efforts the lumber interests of the country were protected.

Many business enterprises were included in his interests. He was one of the founders of the Lycoming National Bank and the banking firm of Cochran, Payne and McCormick, and was also a partner in Hastings & Co., bankers, of Bellefonte.

In 1875 he was married to Ida, daughter of John W. Hays, of Erie, who, with one son, John, and a daughter, Mrs. Nellie Cochran, survives him.

It was characteristic of Mr. McCormick that no worthy cause was ever allowed by him to go unaided, and in his death the charitable institution of the city lose a firm friend and supporter.

MR. O. T. SWITZER'S

Wonderful Gold Discoveries in British Columbia.

A RESIDENT OF PHILIPSBURG

Who Has Won Millions Through the Energy and Pluck He Has Displayed—A History of His Enterprise.

SOME VALUABLE GOLD FINDS

A great many of our readers will remember with interest the letters which were published in local papers from the pen of Mr. O. T. Switzer, describing his trip through the land of the Midnight Sun, and how through his indominable grit and energy he surmounted difficulties and suffered hardships which would make the ordinary man give up in broken-hearted despair. Shipwreck by sea, hunger, cold and abject loneliness, were his lot, but with the courage of a hero, he persevered, and intelligent perseverance predicates all true success.

But gold, that most potential of all magnets, has a power to attract and draw despite the sufferings and terrible sacrifices that are endured in its acquiring, and Mr. Switzer's aim was gold and he has found it; found it in quantities large enough to satisfy the most avaricious and the hardships encountered and the privations endured seems small in comparison with his accomplishment.

A corporation known as "The British-American Dredging Company," has been organized, composed of some of the most prominent men in business and financial circles in Philadelphia to operate Mr. Switzer's valuable discovery.

His property comprises the territory of Pine Creek from the mouth where it empties into Atlin Lake and extends three miles up the creek towards its source, embracing the stream and valley on both sides. The property, unlike many gold properties is very accessable, being only one day's journey from the Pacific ocean by railroad and steam boat. The town of Atlin, which is only three quarters of a mile from the property is a thriving city with two banks and all the advantages of a modern civilization. Mr. O. T. Switzer, who is the general manager of the company, has spent four years in this section, during which time, he has acquired from among the best leases on Pine Creek those which now comprise the property of the British-American Dredging Company, which are well known in the Government records as the "Race Horse" and "Feather" groups. There has been expended over $30,000 in prospecting these leases, and the values, as determined by this investigation are beyond question.

Gold was first discovered on Pine Creek in 1898, and since that time, individual miners with shovel and sluice box, the crudest and most primitive form of mining, have taken out $5,980,000 in virgin gold, some of the nuggets weighing as high as 82½ ounces. In leases where bed rock was only from ten to fifteen feet below the surface of the ground, miners working by the sluicing method have taken out from $150 to $450 in ten hours, washing in that time about four and one-half cubic yards of dirt, which is considered a maximum for two men by this method.

The richest and most valuable gold is found on bed rock, twenty-five to forty-eight feet from the surface, due probably to the fact that gold has a greater specific gravity than either clay or rock. At such depths, it is impossible for the individual miner to prosecute his work, and his lease must needs be abandoned for some better and more feasible method.

The sworn results of the panning of the dirt taken from different prospect shafts while in construction showed values from $10.00 to $56.00 per cubic yard. At many points in the Western states already mentioned, dirt which only shows ten cents per cubic yard is being worked at a profit.

In the organization of this company, it was determined that all stock should be of the same character, every stock holder having the same advantage in the division of profits as the directors or officers of the company; it is further agreed that no salaries shall be paid until the dredges have been placed upon the property showing profitable returns, and that the most rigid economy will be practiced in the expenditures of all moneys.

The company has no debts or obligations of any character and the management is of the most conservative nature.

100,000 shares of the full paid non-assessable capital stock is being offered for sale at 50 cents per share, par value $1.00, 60 000 shares of this stock have already been sold. When this allotment is exhausted the stock will be advanced to $1.00 per share, and only sufficient stock will be disposed of to defray the expense of installing the dredge on the property. Persons desiring to purchase any of the stock can send their subscription to Benj. C. Warnick & Co., Bankers and brokers, Bullitt building, Philadelphia, Pa. No subscription for over 5000 or less than 100 shares will be accepted. Mr. Switzer is visiting his home in Philipsburg for a few weeks prior to his return to British Columbia and any person desiring further information can correspond with him there.

A Pretty Wedding Event.

The residence of J. C. Smith in Unionville was the scene of a pretty wedding on Tuesday morning, May 20th, when his daughter Clara Frances became the wife of George W. Bullock, of Punxsutawney.

Promptly at 11 o'clock the bridal party entered the parlor to the strains of Lohengrin's wedding march as rendered by Mrs. S. C. Brown.

The bride was attended by her cousin, Miss Nellie Geary, of Harrisburg, and Mr. J. William Baily, of the same city, acted as best man.

They were met at the altar by Rev. Bardens, of Clearfield, where they were made husband and wife. The bride was attired in white Paris muslin, trimmed in Valenciennes and Swiss insertion and carried a handsome boquet of Lillies of the Valley. The bridesmaid wore a dress of white French lawn and carried a boquet of Wisteria. The groom and best man were attired in the conventional black.

After receiving the congratulations of their friends and partaking of the bounteous wedding breakfast in the dining room, which was tastefully decorated with ferns and palms, the bridal table being decorated with Smilax and Lillies of the Valley and the guests' table with Ferns and Pansies, the wedding party left, amidst showers of rice, on the 1:30 train for a trip to the lakes.

The bride received many beautiful presents.

The guests present from a distance, besides the parents and brothers of the groom, from Julian, included friends from Harrisburg, Philipsburg, Punxsutawney, Bellefonte, Port Matilda and Lock Haven. A GUEST.

[In last week's issue we published a supposed account of the above wedding sent us by a correspondent, which we found later to be wrong in every detail. In justice to all parties we publish the above which is a correct account.—ED]

Beautiful Services at the Catholic Church.

On Sunday evening St. John's Catholic church on Bishop street was crowded to the doors with people to hear and see the children of the Parish crown the Virgin Mary Queen of May.

Promptly at 7:30 the long procession of children, fully one hundred of them, began marching up and down the aisles singing and carrying beautiful boquets of flowers. The front of the large Temple was trimmed with palms and mixed flowers; at the left of the altar was a statue of the Blessed Virgin Mary, which was surrounded with a magnificent collection of flowers. As the children entered the church they began singing the Litany of the Blessed Virgin, after which they sang "Greetings to May."

During the crowning or the coronation of the Blessed Virgin Mary they sang a hymn entitled "Queen of the Angels." Little Helen Hull presented the crown to Father McArdel and little Marie Montgomery and Helen Cunningham were the ribbon girls. Master Scott Graham led the procession, carrying a long cross, and the banner boy was Joseph O'Leary.

After the crowning Father McArdle made a very good address, bringing out very forcibly the meaning of these exercises.

Just before the benediction the children sang "Upon the Altar Night and Day."

Before closing we want to make special mention of the sweet voices of little May Brown and Maria Garrity. They could be heard above all the other children and they certainly have remarkbly sweet voices.

The exercises were enjoyed by everyone present and those who had charge of them certainly deserve much credit for the successful way they were carried through.

—Until further notice beginning Saturday, May 31, 1902 the Bellefonte Central Railroad Company will run a passenger car on Saturday of each week between Bellefonte, Scotia and Red Bank, leaving Bellefonte at 6:30 a. m. and 4:15 p. m. Returning leave Red Bank and Scotia at 7:45 a. m. and 5 p. m. Fare one way 50 cents. Round trip 75 cents.

HAD PLENTY TO DO.

French Commission Which Came to the Unveiling of Rochambeau Statue.

AT CHURCH IN THE MORNING

A Sermon Was Preached to Them by Cardinal Gibbons—Took a Ride in the Afternoon.

THEY WILL SEE NIAGARA FALLS

WASHINGTON, May 26.—The members of the French commission which came to Washington to attend the ceremonies incident to the unveiling of the Rochambeau statue, finished their visit here Sunday and Sunday night left the city for Niagara Falls on their week's tour of the east before sailing for home. There were no formal functions on the programme for the day, but the visitors found every minute of their time occupied in attending divine service, returning numerous calls, official and otherwise, and in drives about the city and suburbs.

Ambassador Cambon accompanied the members af the mission to St. Patrick's church at 10 o'clock in the morning, where low mass was said by the Rev. Dr. Mangien, of Baltimore; the Right Rev. Monsignor Rooker, of the apostolic delegation, and other priests assisting. The visitors wore the full uniform of their ranks. Cardinal Gibbons preached a short sermon. He spoke briefly of the French missionaries, who had crossed the seas to America and preached the Gospel to the aboriginal inhabitants, carrying the torch of faith in one hand and the torch of civilization in the other. It was meet and proper that the sons of France should assemble in the temple of God to give thanks to the Almighty for the great things which has been accomplished by their countrymen in this hemisphere in the cause of religion and civilization.

Of Rochambeau, Cardinal Gibbons said in part :

Without detracting from the merits of his brothers in arms, I can affirm that Rochambeau was the flower of the French allied army. Mature in years, experienced in military campaigns, a veteran of the Seven Years' War, calm, deliberate, self-poised, he was a man of Washington's own heart—the general on whose counsel and prudence he could rely more than on that of any other commander.

"May the friendship existing between France and America—a friendship to which we owe our very existence as an independent, sovereign power—may this historic friendship be perpetuated. May it be strengthened and consolidated by the iron bonds of commerce, and by the golden links of brotherly love. May the two great republics of the world go hand in hand in the march of liberty and progress of civilization. And may the monument erected to Rochambeau in the capital of the nation ever remind the American citizen who will contemplate it of the everlasting debt of gratitude which the United States owes to France."

A quite unexpected feature of the afternoon, and one which pleased the visitors very much, was an invitation from President Roosevelt to accompany him and several others on a horseback ride. The entire party assembled in front of the white house about 4 o'clock, the visitors in their uniforms making a very pretty picture in the bright afternoon sunlight. A photograph was taken of the group while there. The president guided the party through the northern section of the city until they reached the Zoological park. While in the park a storm began to gather and the party came home at a lively canter. The rain overtook them, however, and before reaching their stopping place the entire party was drenched. Those on horseback were President Roosevelt, his son, Theodore, jr., and daughter Alice, Secretary Root and Senator Lodge and the following members of the Rochambeau mission: General Brugere, Vice Admiral Fournier, General Chalendar and Captain Lasson.

State College Cadets on Parade.

On Friday afternoon the four Companies at State College had their annual competitive drill, and it is said they made one of the finest showings ever made in the history of the school. They have been under strict discipline in military tactics and Captain D. H. Clarke U. S. A. who has command there says he is well pleased with the efforts the boys made to bring their school up to the high standing it is now enjoying.

The Judge's chosen for the drill were Col. W. Fred Reynolds, Col. Wilbur F. Reeder, and Captain Hugh S. Taylor. Fully one thousand people were in attendance.

THE HEYLMAN PRIZE.

Interesting Contest Monday Afternoon by Students of the High School.

The contest for the Heylman Prize of ten dollars to be given to the student of the Bellefonte High School of the A class delivering the best declamation was held Monday afternoon and was well attended.

The speakers and their subjects were as follows:

"The Supposed Speech of James Otis"—Charles Donachy.

"Heroes and Martyrs"—Harry Wian.

"On Being Found Guilty of High Treason"—Paul McGarvey.

"Vesuvius and the Egyptian"—Paul Longacre.

"The Fireman's Prayer—Walter Rankin.

The prize was awarded to Walter Rankin and favorable mention was made of Charles Donachy.

The judges were Henry C. Quigley Esq., and N. B. Spangler Esq. The prize of ten dollars in gold was the gift of Harris B. Heylman.

A Brave Soldier's Record.

I enlisted in Company H, 148th Regiment, in Bellefonte, August 16, 1862.

When I joined the company I enlisted for three years but was honorably discharged before one year had expired.

During the hottest part of the fight at the battle of Chancellorsville, May 3, 1863, I was wounded three times. The first two wounds were but flesh wounds and I continued to fight until a bullet struck me on the face, entering one side and coming out on the opposite side, breaking the lower jaw to pieces, taking all my lower teeth and part of my tongue. I was left on the battle field, my comrades thinking I was dead. I held the pieces of my face in my hands for 48 hours and in that time had no water to drink and my tongue was swollen so large that I could not have swallowed anything. My suffering was intense. I begged another comrade, who was wounded and lying near me, to shoot me but he refused. Finally I was picked up and taken to the hospital where my wounds were dressed and I recovered sufficiently to be discharged July 16, 1863.

—Birth-marks which mar the outside of the body are a grief to every mother whose children may bear them. But for every child who bears a birth-mark on the skin there are many who bear an indelible birth mark on the mind. Nervous mothers have nervous children and many a man and woman owes an irritable and despondent temperament to those days of dread when the mother waited the hour of her maternity. The use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription strengthens the mother for her trial. With strength comes a buoyancy of spirits and quietness of mind, which is one of the happiest gifts a mother can bestow on her offspring. By giving vigor and elasticity to the delicate womanly organs "Favorite Prescription" practically does away with the pain of maternity and makes the baby's advent as natural and as simple as the blossoming of a flower. There is no opium, cocaine or other narcotic contained in "Favorite Prescription."

—Girls without a desirable love of liberty and craze for individualism, girls who will let themselves be guided, girls who have the filial sentment of a daughter for the women who acts as their mother, girls who know that every day and all day long cannot be devoted to holiday making without the intervention of duties more or less irksome, girls who when they can gather them accept their roses with frank and girlish sincerity of pleasure and when they are denied submit without repining to the inevitable hardships of circumstances these are the girls whose companionship gladdens and does not oppress or distract the old, whose sweetness and ready submission to the reasonable control of authority make life so pleasant and their charge so light to those whose care they are, these are the girls who become good wives in the future, and in there turn, wise understanding mothers and who, have to choose out of many where others are sought by none. The leaven of them keeps society clean and pure; for, if all girls were as recalcitrant as some are, men might bid adieu to the women and the home according to the ideal hitherto cherished.

The Tax Levy.

The sinking fund is again unprovided for in Council's estimate of expenditures for the coming year, notwithstanding a raise of one-half mill in the tax.

The report of the Finance committee, given in last week's issue of the REPUBLICAN, recommends the following tax levies on an estimated valuation of $1,627,615, viz:

Amt. needed for Street...		$ 6,105.00
Amt. needed for Borough:
Finance.....	$1,200.00
Board of Health..	125.00
Police.....	1,300.00
Fire Department..	1,500.00
Treasurer	305.00
		4,430.00
Amt. needed for Interest:
Int. on debt.....	$4,500.00
State tax on same	450.00
Sinking fund.....	3,000.00
		7,950.00
		$18,485.00
Bal. cash on hand...		332.59
		$18,817.59
For street, 4 mills tax.....		$ 6,510.46
" borough, 3 mills tax.....		4,882 84
" interest, 4½ mills tax.....		7,324 29
Licenses, etc.....		700.00
		$19,417.59
Exonerations		600.00
		$18,817.59

"From old tax duplicates we will receive nine thousand dollars."

If this estimate were correct in all its details on the first Monday of March, 1903, the Borough would have paid all its expenses for the year, have appropriated to sinking fund $3,000, would have $332.59 on hand, and all this not counting the $9,000 the committee expects to receive on the old duplicates. Unfortunately their estimates will not stand the test.

First, they will not receive $18,817.59 from an 11½ mill levy. Experience for many years has shown the tax collector that he will receive on the 1st of October of each year three-fifths of his duplicate. From this amount must be deducted 7 per cent., 5 per cent. for discount and 2 per cent. for collection fee. On the 1st of February he will receive one-half of the balance, which will be lessened by 5 per cent. for collection fees. Applying this rule to the estimated millage, the treasurer will receive on October 1st $10,511.51 and on February 1st $3,575.34, or, including the $700 from licenses, etc., $14,786.85 in all. The $600 exonerations will be deducted from the remaining one-fifth of the duplicate which is never collected during the first year.

The amount needed for the various departments, according to the Finance committee's estimate, is $18,485, or $3.698.15 more than they will realize from their duplicate, in fact will even leave them $698.15 short if they deposit no moneys in the sinking fund.

Second, in their report is this statement: "From the old duplicates we will receive $9,000." If this were correct they would come out with a clear balance sheet. Is it correct? Last year the treasurer received $2,375 on the old duplicates, the year before $2,225. This looks very much as though $2,500 would be the most that they can look for from this source.

But another difficulty arises. These taxes and estimates have nothing to do with the water revenues, while practically half of the back taxes are made up of water assessments; hence, only one-half of this amount, or about $1,250, can be applied to Borough purposes or considered in these estimates. Taking this amount of $1,250 as applicable to their purposes, the Committee will then find themselves with a balance on hand of $552.85 at the end of the year, but with no other funds than this small balance to apply to the sinking fund.

The most peculiar part of this method of financing is that the former tax of 2½ mills would give, on the present valuation, $4,069.10, which with the $700 extra, would be more than sufficient, according to the Committee's estimate, to meet the amount needed for Borough purposes, while the 4½ mills now levied for Interest requirements will on their own figures fall short about $600 of the amount required. Nevertheless, they recommend raising the Borough millage one-half mill when it is not needed, instead of raising the Interest tax at least one mill, which would be just high enough to enable them to appropriate $2,000 to the sinking fund.

It is not too late to change these rates, since the duplicate cannot be made out for some time, and it is to be hoped that they will be properly adjusted.

Holds Up a Congressman.

"At the end of the campaign," writes Champ Clark, Missouri's brilliant congressman, "from overwork, nervous tension, loss of sleep and constant speaking, I had about utterly collapsed. It seemed that all the organs in my body were out of order, but three bottles of Electric Bitters made me all right. It's the best all-around medicine ever sold over a druggist's counter." Over-worked, run-down men and weak, sickly women gain splendid health and vitality from Electric Bitters. Try them. Only 50c. Guaranteed at Green's Pharmacy.

Catarrh

Is a constitutional disease.

It originates in a scrofulous condition of the blood and depends on that condition.

It often causes headache and dizziness, impairs the taste, smell and hearing, affects the vocal organs and disturbs the stomach.

It is always radically and permanently cured by the blood-purifying, alterative and tonic action of

Hood's Sarsaparilla

This great medicine has wrought the most wonderful cures of all diseases depending on scrofula or the scrofulous habit.

HOOD'S PILLS are the best cathartic.

FLOWER AND TREE.

Palms never live more than 250 years. Ivy has been known to live 450, chestnut 860, oak 1,600 and yew 2,880 years.

Nothing is better for house plants than to be set out in a gentle, warm rain, but a cold rain and wind are anything but hopeful to them.

In planting trees an important point not to be forgotten is pressing the soil down upon the roots so that they will come in close contact with it.

A pot of flowers in bud should receive all the sunshine possible, but when the buds open keep them in shade, and they will last longer.

The largest apple tree in New England is in Cheshire, Conn. Its trunk measures one foot above all root enlargements, 13 feet 8 inches in circumference.

An orchard, whether young or old, should not be allowed to grow where heavy crops of grass are taken every year. It is weakening to the soil and detrimental to the trees.

In Ashanti there grows a tree resembling in appearance the English oak, which furnishes excellent butter. This vegetable butter keeps in perfect condition all the year round in spite of the heat.

Drinking Through the Nostrils.

The Indian sages do not practice their breathing exercises simply for the sake of repose and sleep. During the inbreathing energy is increased. These Indians are not the only people who believe that with the inbreathing of pure air there comes something still more vital than oxygen. But the Indians have developed the art of breathing more than any other people.

One of their favorite exercises is to inhale through the left nostril, to hold the breath for a time and then exhale through the right nostril.

Another of their exercises is to drink water through the nostrils, and after it has been retained for a short time it is expelled through the nostrils and the mouth. This is said to cool the head.—Chambers' Journal.

Her Consolation.

At a confirmation at Strassburg the bishop asked of a pretty soubrette the usual question of the Heidelberg catechism:

"What is your only consolation in life and death?"

The neophyte blushed and hesitated. The first question was repeated, and then she stammered out:

"The young shoemaker in the next street."—London Tit-Bits.

Like a Drowning Man.

"Five years ago a disease the doctors called dyspepsia took such hold of me that I could scarcely go," writes Geo. S. Marsh, well-known attorney of Nocona, Tex. "I took quantities of pepsin and other medicine but nothing helped me. As a drowning man grabs at a straw I grabbed at Kodol. I felt an improvement at once and after a few bottles am well." Kodol is the only preparation which exactly reproduces the natural digestive juices and consequently is the only one which digests any good food and cures any form of stomach trouble. C. M. Parrish.

Miss Maud Neff Dead.

Miss Maud Neff died in Peoria, Ill., Monday of this week aged about thirty years. The corpse will be shipped to this place for interment and will be accompanied by George B. Olney, a friend, and it is presumed, will arrive this Friday afternoon.

Miss Neff was a daughter of Mary A. Neff, and with her parents lived in this place during her girlhood. She is survived by her mother and one brother, Leckie. Her father, John Neff, died some few years ago and is buried in the Centre Hall cemetery.

Mrs. Neff's physical condition is such that it is not deemed advisable for her to travel at this time.—Centre Reporter.

AN INTERNATIONAL TOWN.

Peculiarities of Nogales, on the Mexican Border Line.

It would be incorrect to date a letter from either Nogales, Ariz., or Nogales, Mex., alone, for the town belongs so thoroughly and completely to both that neither half is a town at all. It is the most completely and curiously international place that can be conceived of. There is no separation of the two parts visible as you look down on the town from the hills, and the life and the ordinary traffic of the place flow back and forth with no one apparently to say them nay. However, it must not be supposed that there is free trade across the thoroughfare, which on one side is called International street and on the other the Calle International.

In the middle of the street, where the Calle Elias, or main business street, crosses the international avenue, stands a stone obelisk about twelve feet high, and in the vicinity of this are always one or two guards in civilian dress, who pay no attention to empty handed passersby, but will stop any carriage or any person who offers to cross with a burden that might contain dutiable material. Occasionally on the Mexican side one sees a Mexican soldier in uniform, but the cuartel near by is too small to hold more than a small detachment, and neither soldiers nor uniformed customs guards are ever in evidence along the border.

The Americans live apart from one another in individual houses of all grades, most of which are very neat and some of which are quite fine and must have been costly. Their streets run up the sides of the mountain glen in which the town is situated. In among their houses are the adobe cabins of the Mexicans, who are their hewers of wood and drawers of water (these terms being literally correct here, for the fuel of the country is knotted and gnarled wood, brought from the hills on donkeys' backs, and the town water won't run up to the higher elevations).

OLD FASHIONED.

What has become of the old fashioned father who took a whip and held heart to heart talks with his son out in the barn?

What has become of the old fashioned woman who gave her children potatoes to make animals with, using toothpicks to make the legs?

What has become of the old fashioned woman who didn't think it proper to appear on the streets with her husband unless she had hold of his arm?—Atchison Globe.

Jefferson as an Inventor.

Not many people know that Thomas Jefferson was a great inventor. His inventions were all of articles of everyday use. He devised a three legged folding camp stool that is the basis of all camp stools of that kind today. The stool he had made for his own use was his constant companion on occasions of outings. The revolving chair was his invention. He designed a light wagon. A copying press was devised by him and came into general use. He also invented an instrument for measuring the distance he walked. A plow and a hemp cultivator showed that his thoughts were often on agricultural matters. His plow received a gold medal in France in 1790. Jefferson never benefited financially by his inventions, but believed they should be for the use of every one without cost.—St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

A Man to the Rescue!

The Woman in Peril Rarely Finds Help From Her Own Sex.

It is in no wise to a woman's discredit that she is not a professional life-saver. We can only fancy her in the fireman's helmet, in the crew of the life-boat, or wielding a policeman's club, at the loss of some of that fineness which is the distinguishing quality of her sex. The Molly Pitchers and Grace Darlings are only examples of the sublime self-forgetfulness of women in great emergencies.

It's much the same in other ways. Women turn to the strength, skill and judgment of men in the crises of life.

One of the most common statements made in the letters grateful women write to Dr. Pierce, of Buffalo, N. Y., is this: "I owe my life to Dr. Pierce." These women have found themselves in great danger. They have appealed without avail to local physicians. They have counseled in vain with women advisers. The best that had been done for them was just to keep them afloat in the sea of disease with strength visibly failing, in the hope that the man who had strength and skill to save them might be found.

WOMAN'S APPEAL ANSWERED.

Hundreds of thousands of women have appealed to Dr. Pierce, for relief from womanly ills and not one has appealed in vain. The use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription supplemented by the medical advice of Dr. Pierce has been the means of cure to this vast army of women suffering from diseases peculiar to the sex.

"I wish to tell you the benefit I received from using your remedies," writes Mrs. Alice Soncrant, of 261 W. Harrison Street, Chicago, Ills. "Two years ago I was taken with a severe pain in the left ovary and side. Tried several different remedies, but nothing helped me. I got so bad I could scarcely walk across the floor or do work of any kind. One day an old neighbor lady came in to see me, and told me to try Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. She said she knew it would help me, as it had saved her life. When the doctors had given her up and said they could do nothing for her she said she began to take Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription and it cured her. So I got a bottle of the 'Favorite Prescription' and one of 'Golden Medical Discovery,' and began taking them. Before I had taken one bottle of each I was so much better I could do all my own work, and that is a good deal, as I am the mother of four small children. Three bottles of the 'Favorite Prescription' and one of 'Golden Medical Discovery' cured me. I have not been sick since then. I think your 'Favorite Prescription' is a wonderful medicine for women."

Such cures as that of Mrs. Soncrant are many, and they speak for the power of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription better than the most eloquent words of praise. The test of a medicine is, what has it done for women? By that test "Favorite Prescription" invites woman's verdict. On the testimony of trustworthy women, "Favorite Prescription" has saved life where physicians had given up all hope. It has cured the most stubborn and obstinate forms of womanly disease. It has banished pain, restored the appetite, induced refreshing sleep, given color to the cheeks and roundness to the form.

WOMEN WHO CANNOT BE CURED.

There are few women for whom no perfect cure is possible. The number of such women has been reduced to a minimum by the practical experience of Dr. Pierce. Of the hundreds of thousands of women who have appealed to Dr. Pierce for counsel in connection with his "Favorite Prescription," only two in every hundred have failed of a perfect and permanent cure. But even this two per cent. of incurables have gratefully recorded a great improvement in their condition; relief from pain and a restoration to family enjoyments.

No sick woman should be discouraged by her condition, no matter how long standing her ailment may be, or how utterly all other means and medicines have failed to cure. The greater number of cures effected by "Favorite Prescription" are cures of chronic and complicated diseases which have baffled the skill of local physicians and proved intractable to all other treatment.

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription makes weak women strong and sick women well. It establishes regularity, dries disagreeable and weakening drains, heals inflammation and ulceration, and cures female weakness. It is the greatest preparative for maternity, giving womanly health and strength and making baby's advent practically painless.

A GREAT FREE OFFER.

Sick women are invited to consult Dr. Pierce, by letter, free. All correspondence is held in sacred confidence, and womanly confidences are guarded by strict professional privacy. Address Dr. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

There is no similar offer of free consultation by letter or free medical advice, which has behind it an institution such as the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, Buffalo, N. Y., to which for over thirty years Dr. Pierce has been chief consulting physician, assisted by a medical staff of nearly a score of specialists in the treatment and cure of womanly diseases.

"Favorite Prescription" contains no alcohol, neither opium, cocaine, nor any other narcotic. It is purely a vegetable preparation and cannot disagree with the weakest constitution.

Some dealers for the sake of the little more profit paid by inferior preparations, will try and sell the customer a substitute for "Favorite Prescription" as being "just as good." "Just as good" medicines do not have the cures to their credit which make women hail "Favorite Prescription" as a "Godsend to women." Don't barter the substance for the shadow.

IT WILL SURPRISE YOU

TRADE PROSPECTS

Future Would Be Brighter Were It Not For the Strike of the Anthracite Miners.

OUTLOOK OF CROPS IS GOOD

Greater Area Given to Corn and Oats Eastern Dry Goods Markets Are Quiet.

THE FAILURES FOR THE PAST WEEK

NEW YORK, May 24.—R. G. Dun & Co's Weekly Review of Trade today says:

Many minor labor controversies have been settled, but the situation in the anthracite coal region has assumed a more serious aspect. No change is reported in the iron and steel situation, former conditions merely becoming intensified by the threatened decrease in supplies of fuel and the labor controversies in certain branches of the industry.

The railways are seeking rails, rolling stock and other equipments, while contractors require much structural material.

Quiet conditions have prevailed in the cereal markets, with only a moderate volume of option transactions and fractional condition in quotations.

Dispatches from correspondents of R. G. Dun & Co. indicate satisfactory progress with the new corn crop and a material increase in acreage.

Failures for the week numbered 192 in the United States against 180 last year and twelve in Canada against twenty-two last year.

THROUGH BRADSTREET'S GLASSES.

NEW YORK, May 24.—Bradstreet's today will say: With almost uniformly good wheat, corn, oats and cotton crop reports, improved retail demand caused by warmer weather, a full volume of reorder business for this season of the year, good collections and heavy railroad earnings, the only cloud on the situation would seem to be the continued unrest of labor and the idleness of large numbers of industrial workers as a result thereof.

Telegrams to Bradstreet's state the greatly increased area devoted to corn and oats is receiving adequate moisture at a time when greatly needed. It will probably be found that all of the 5,000,000 acres of winter-killed wheat and that lost to spring wheat by heavy rains in North Dakota will be turned into coarser grains, high prices for which have been induced by short yields and straightened supplies last year. The winter wheat crop in the southwest is practically made.

Eastern dry goods markets are quite, as usual at this season.

Structural mills are crowded with orders and the bar and plate mills have all they can do. Sheet and tin plate mills alone are able to promise early deliveries.

Traveling is Dangerous.

Constant motion jars the kidneys which are kept in place in the body by delicate attachments. This is the reason that travelers, trainmen, street car men, teamsters and all who drive very much suffer from kidney diseases in some form. Foley's Kidney Cure strengthens the kidneys and cures all forms of kidney and bladder diseases. Geo. H. Hausan, locomotive engineer, Lima, O., writes. "Constant vibration of the engine caused me a great deal of trouble with my kidneys, and I got no relief until I used Foley's Kidney Cure." C. M. Parrish.

Over-Work Weakens Your Kidneys.

Unhealthy Kidneys Make Impure Blood.

All the blood in your body passes through your kidneys once every three minutes.

The kidneys are your blood purifiers, they filter out the waste or impurities in the blood.

If they are sick or out of order, they fail to do their work.

Pains, aches and rheumatism come from excess of uric acid in the blood, due to neglected kidney trouble.

Kidney trouble causes quick or unsteady heart beats, and makes one feel as though they had heart trouble, because the heart is over-working in pumping thick, kidney-poisoned blood through veins and arteries.

It used to be considered that only urinary troubles were to be traced to the kidneys, but now modern science proves that nearly all constitutional diseases have their beginning in kidney trouble.

If you are sick you can make no mistake by first doctoring your kidneys. The mild and the extraordinary effect of Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney remedy is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases and is sold on its merits by all druggists in fifty-cent and one-dollar sizes. You may have a sample bottle by mail free, also pamphlet telling you how to find out if you have kidney or bladder trouble. Mention this paper when writing Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y.

Kodol Digests what you Eat

Dyspepsia Cure

People once thought that the only way to cure indigestion was to stop eating. The trouble with such treatment is, that to stop eating is to stop living. KODOL DYSPEPSIA CURE has changed the whole method of treating this complaint. It contains all the natural digestive fluids and digests all you eat without aid from the stomach, so you can eat all the good food you want and be cured of your trouble at the same time.

"I have been troubled with indigestion and dyspepsia for several years and often sat down to eat but had to give it up after eating only two bites. I used two bottles of KODOL DYSPEPSIA CURE and am alright to-day. Can now eat anything I want. W. L. Easton, Audubon, Iowa."

It can't help but do you good

Prepared by E. C. DeWitt & Co., Chicago. The $1. bottle contains 2½ times the 50c. size.

When you suffer from biliousness or constipation, use the famous little liver pills known as DeWitt's Little EARLY RISERS. They never gripe.

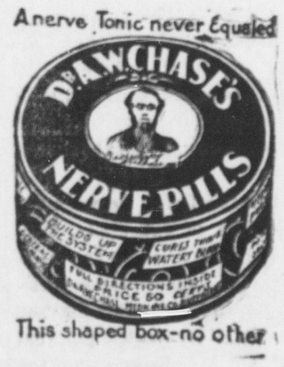
A Clear Head for Business.

A head that aches is a bar to business. Most headache medicines offered the public stop, but do not cure the attacks. Ease the pain but do not remove the cause. Do not give resistive power, act as sedatives or blanketing agents, require continued use. Continued loss means loss of effect or increased dose—possibly habit. Contrast this method of treatment with that of Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Pills—A medicine that goes to the root of the trouble—a badly nourished nervous system—removes the cause removes it for good—gives back the power to think, to work, to act, by its unparalleled nerve rebuilding tonic properties. The only sensible, proper way to reach such trouble.

Sunbury.

Miss Jennie Zettlemoyer, of 300 North 4th street, Sunbury, Pa., says: "I have been troubled a long time with nervousness and at times would be so bad that I simply could not rest at night. I also was bothered a great deal with nervous headaches. I got some of Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Pills and they did me a world of good. I used two boxes in all and I rested and felt quieter and was not troubled with the headaches. I intend continuing their use and have great confidence in them."



Allegheny St.

Solomon Garrett, of No. 301 Allegheny street, Bellefonte, Pa., says: "I had been feeling very much run down and poorly for a long time. My head ached a great deal and I felt tired all over. I was also bothered with sleeplessness at night. I saw Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Pills so highly recommended I got a box at Krumrine's drug store and they did me a great deal of good. I felt firstrate after using them and have no hesitation in recommending them to others."

BEWARE OF IMITATION. Signature and portrait of Dr. A. W. Chase on each box of the genuine. For sale by dealers, 50 cents a box, or Dr. A. W. Chase Medicine Co., 275 Washington St., Buffalo, N. Y. For sale at Krumrine's Drug Store.

PENNYPACKER, QUAY, ELKIN!

The Democratic newspapers of this county seem to be particularly exercised over Judge Pennypacker's candidacy for governor. Their pages are filled with references to him and every effort is used to connect his name with that of Mr. Quay. Much is made of the distant relationship between them and of the fact that Judge Pennypacker came to the defense of our state in a written article in reply to one appearing in a New England magazine.

These newspapers are not to be blamed for the dust they kick up; it blinds none but those who place implicit confidence in what they say. They are fighting for their political life. They well know that, if Elkin, the idol of the worst political machine which has ever been developed in America, is nominated by the Republican convention, the success of the Democracy in the Fall elections is almost certain. On the other hand they feel equally assured that, if Judge Pennypacker secures the nomination, he is exceedingly likely to receive the solid vote of the independents of both parties.

If, by bespattering their columns with the filth flung at this man, whom all the factions of his own city unite in praising, they can induce the Republicans to vote against him at the primaries and so place in nomination a man whom they can easily beat at the polls, this would be good politics from their standpoint. But this action on their part will have the wrong effect. Every Republican knows that abuse from a Democratic organ is equivalent to praise. Consequently, since they abuse Samuel H. Pennypacker, he is the candidate whom they fear.

Each possible Democratic candidate, from the top of the ticket to the bottom, believes his chance in the coming election to be fourfold better with Elkin heading the ticket against him than if Pennypacker is nominated for governor. Ask them and see!

DEMOCRATIC TROUBLES.

Our Democratic friends, who are worrying so much over the Pennypacker-Elkin controversy, are in a position similar to that of the late inhabitants of the island of Martinique before Mt. Pelee became an active volcano. Have they the least idea of the terrific eruption which is in store for them when their county convention gets through with the work cut out for them next Tuesday?

A fight to the finish between the county leaders is expected. Who will boss the gang, will be the principal issue. If Sam Gettig is turned down in his struggle for the chairmanship, it means the political ending of C. M. Bower and the "Bower-ring"; while if Fortney is defeated Orvis' chances for the judgeship two years from now are absolutely nil.

Besides this scrap, which will be bad enough, many of the Democracy's pole-horses are hot under the collar at Taylor's methods of crushing all opposition to his candidacy for Sheriff. They think he has been well enough cared for, with his nine years of Tax-collector at one thousand dollars per year, and are very sore at the party bosses who have insisted on the withdrawal of all the other candidates, who were brave enough to come out against their pet, and only permitted poor Burdine Butler to stay in the ring so Taylor can have the honor of knocking someone out, even if he is a wooden man. Its all fixed against Butler, though he can't realize it.

There will be lots of surprises to the rank and file in store for the rest of the ticket. It will be a great show and well worth seeing. Main's circus comes just one day to late, for its seats won't be worth ten cents alongside of a front bench in the Court House at the coming Democratic convention.

HENRY CLAY M'CORMICK.

The death of Henry Clay McCormick, who was Attorney General of the Commonwealth during the Administration of Governor Hastings, will be a shock and a sincere cause of grief all over the State. He had a wide acquaintance and was sincerely respected and admired for his talents and character by all who knew him.

Born in the county where he lived all his life, he early won a State distinction. His greatest achievements were at the bar, and he was easily the first in his profession in all that section of the State, while few were his equals anywhere. He would have won his way quite as successfully against the greater competition of the great cities. No attorney came before the higher courts of the Commonwealth who could more cogently state his case or more forcibly argue it. He did nothing for show; wasted no time on mere forms, but with unusual penetration and skill went directly to the point in hand. Able as he was at the bar, he was equally competent and successful in his business undertakings, which were extensive.

It is notable that Henry C. McCormick was the one Republican in a large Democratic family—Democratic in all its numerous branches—and he lived in the old Democratic surroundings of Lycoming County with unshaken faith in the principles of Republicanism. His service of four years in Congress brought him into the front rank of useful members. His work as Attorney General was distinguished by a fidelty to the public interests from which he did not know how to depart. He did not understand the meaning of intrigue, and despised a fraud, whether in law, politics or business. He was at the right hand of Governor Hastings in every effort to suppress public jobbery and scandal and thwart mercenary raids upon the Treasury of the Commonwealth.

Henry C. McCormick came of a sturdy family, whose various branches for years have had a large part in the affairs of Lycoming County, and of which he early became the most distinguished member. Throughout his career he has maintained the rugged integrity of the family blood running in his veins. In all the affairs of busy life, engaged in multifarious enterprises and with varied business relations, he never swerved from the straight path of honor. To those bereaved by his untimely death he leaves that priceless legacy, the name and fame of an honest man.—Philadelphia Press.

FROM DR. LEONARD PEARSON STATE VETERINARIAN--THE RAPACIOUS MEAT TRUST, THE FARMERS AND THE CONSUMERS.

From Grange Trade Bulletin.

EDITOR GRANGE TRADE BULLETIN: The high cost of meat is now causing a great deal of annoyance and inconvenience. The so-called "Meat Trust" is the object of a great deal of criticism and resentment. The packers of meats claim that there is no trust; that a few firms, acting independently, have managed gradually to absorb the business, and that they have to charge high prices for meats because cattle are high. There is no doubt that beef on the hoof is high. It is absurd to expect fat cattle to be as cheap when they are fed corn worth 60 cents a bushel as when they are fed corn worth from 25 to 40 cents a bushel.

For years the buying of cattle in the great stock yards of Chicago, Kansas City and Omaha has been dominated by the agents of a few packers. Whether these cattle buyers fixed the price of the animals they wished to purchase the machinations of a trust, or whether they had merely a "gentleman's agreement" to pay no more than a certain price for cattle, at which the feeder had to sell or hold, is immaterial, and, probably, indeterminable.

The important fact is, that they have fixed the price, and in times past have crowded it down so far that the margin of profit to cattle feeders has been so small that the business has been attended by excessive risks. Indeed, for many years, cattle feeding has been a gamble at which one is as likely to lose as to win.

So many feeders have been ruined or discouraged by these conditions that this year, following drought and high prices of feed, together with great activity in industrial lines and unusual demand for meat, there is an actual scarcity of meat producing animals, in condition for slaughter.

Coincident with forcing down the price of live cattle, the packers have stifled competition in meat selling. With all of the force and power of vast accumulations of capital, and by the use of methods similar to this so successfully employed by the Standard Oil Company, they have driven local slaughterers out of business, until they dominate the wholesale meat market in nearly every city of more than 10,000 inhabitants, and indirectly, in the whole country. Since the local slaughters have so largely been driven out of business there has been a less active local market for fat cattle; hence, the business of feeding cattle has been greatly restricted excepting in the districts tributary to the only large markets that remain, the centres of the packing industry. So, the packers control the live cattle markets and the outlet for their products. They control the price the farmer may receive for fat cattle and the price the consumer has to pay for meat. At the present time, using the high price of cattle as an excuse, they have raised the price of meat to an unwarranted and oppressive point.

What is the remedy for the present condition? It appears to me that it lies in the decentralization of the business of feeding and slaughtering. If the farmers of Virginia, Maryland, New York and Pennsylvania had plenty of fat cattle to sell, and if there were plenty of local slaughterers to buy them and prepare them for market, the packers could not fix an arbitrary and exorbitant price for meat. The price would be fixed by the righteous law of supply and demand.

Parts of the State of Pennsylvania are as well adapted to cattle feeding as any place in the United States. Corn makes fat cattle, and corn can be produced of good quality and in great abundance on the fertile farms of the valleys of Pennsylvania. Moreover, good corn land can be purchased as cheaply, or more cheaply in Pennsylvania, Virginia and Maryland than land of equal capacity can be purchased in Illinois or Iowa. But corn growing and cattle feeding are not practiced here to the extent that natural conditions justify, because the packers have destroyed the home market for fat cattle by driving from business the men who formerly bought and slaughtered them.

This condition can be remedied by restoring the conditions under which the local slaughterers may live.

If the meat consumers really resent the action of the Western packers; if they wish to defeat the purpose of the unfair combination that has sought entirely to destroy the local slaughtering business, they have the remedy in their own hands. Relief will follow their demanding and insisting on having home dressed meats—that is, meats killed in Philadelphia. The result of such a demand will be to stimulate local trade at the expense of Chicago trade. This will improve the home market for fat cattle, and will lead to a decentralization of the feeding and slaughtering businesses.

It is proposed to remove the tariff on cattle as a means of relieving the present stringency. The effect of this would be to admit cattle from Mexico and Canada. From South America cattle cannot safely be admitted on account of the prevalence of contagious diseases which, if implanted in this country, would be likely to destroy so many cattle as to make a scarcity that would run the price higher than it is now. From Mexico we would receive a poor lot of cattle, similar to the Texas cattle of yeaas ago. Of such cattle we already have enough. They are not fit for slaughter, and we have no corn to feed them. From Canada we might get a few good steers, but in all of Canada there are not as many cattle as in New York State and Pennsylvania and the price of cattle in Canada is now practically as high as it is here since it is controlled by the price in England, where the surplus is sold.

Moreover, if good, cheap cattle could be imported, which is not possible at present, the effect of this would be to give the packers cheaper material, but would not insure cheaper meat.

I have tried to show that meat is excessively high because the packers control the outlet, as well as the live stock markets. Relief will come when the business of the packers is distributed among local slaughterers in hundreds of cities and towns throughout the land, and when these local slaughterers are partly supplied with fat live stock from farms not tributary to nor controlled by the present centres of the meat packing trade.

When consumers demand home dressed meats the application of the remedy will begin. The operation of the remedy will be facilitated by a law requiring meat to be stamped or marked with the name and location of the abattoir in which it was prepared. In this way every purchaser may see for himself whether he is helping to support the Western combinations he now denounces so roundly or whether he is aiding members of his own community to furnish better meat for lower prices.

THE FOREIGNER PAYS THE TAX

From Grange Trade Bulletin.

It is something of a novelty to find the British parliament engaged in a tariff discussion, and endeavoring to ascertain who pays the duty on imports. England has been a free trade country for many years. The principles of the Cobden club have ruled as the theory of British financiers. Taxes have been laid on some imports as a means of obtaining revenue. Of this nature is the new tax on grain and flour. It is a tariff for revenue only but the debate it has started has gone into the question of who pays the tax, just as debates in the American congress do when tariff schedules are under discussion.

The British opposition is attacking the tax on the ground that it will increase the cost of the people's food, while the government leaders take the contrary view. They aver that the tax will be paid by the exporters, and that the consumers will get their foreign flour at no increase in price. The chancellor of the exchequer declares that there has been no general rise in the price of bread. He maintains that it is absurd to suppose that a three-penny duty on grain will reduce the wheat acreage in America. Having produced the wheat the farmers must sell it, and the chancellor believes that th wheat growers and carriers will pay the new tax if there is a large crop. American protectionists have always maintained that home industries have been protected at no additional cost to the consumers. It is interesting to find Sir Michael Hicks-Beach coming around to the same view.

RETAILERS IN AWE OF THE BEEF TRUST.

From Grange Trade Bulletin

Attorney General Knox has carried the Federal war against the Beef Trust into Philadelphia. By his direction United States District Attorney James P. Holland yesterday began an investigation into the local operations of the trust.

Many of the leading retailers of Philadelphia have been requested by Mr. Holland to volunteer such testimony as will disclose the workings of the trust here. A score or more of these dealers were at his offices yesterday in conference with him. At the close of the meeting the United States District Attorney, said he had obtained some important evidence that would throw light on the question.

Continuing, he said:

I have been requested by Attorney General Knox to collect evidence here which will have bearing upon the legal proceedings against the trust in Chicago. At this time I am not prepared to say just what the conditions are here, but I think that if the retail meat dealers will give me any assistance a strong case will be made out against the six Chicago houses against which the government has filed action.

The chief obstacle in the way of this investigation is the fear of the retailers to come forward and make disclosures. It is evident to me that they all stand in awe of the trust, for most, if not quite all, of them must depend on the combine for their supply of meats.

Several retailers who were here today positively refused to give any testimony until I had assured them that their identity would not be disclosed. These dealers say that they will be "blacklisted" if it becomes known that they have appeared before me and assisted in this investigation.

I don't know how soon I shall have my report ready for Attorney General Knox, but it will surely take a week or more to collect all of the testimony. Presumably my report will be made a part of the proceedings against the Chicago concerns, but whatever may be done by the courts there to suppress the Beef Trust will, of course, have its effect here.

WALTER L. MAIN BIG CIRCUS AND MANAGERIE.

Coming in All its Greatness.

Time and again, in the interest of inferior and disreputable shows, the report has been industriously circulated that the greater ones divide when exhibiting in other than the bigger cities. The great Walter L. Main enormous shows which appear in Bellefonte Wednesday June 4th having frequently had this malicious slander leveled at it, not only denies it point blank, and in toto, but offers a substantial reward for the arrest and conviction of any person circulating the same, and, furthermore, will pay a round sum for proof that any tent show was ever divided and its separate parts exhibited in different places on the same day. The thing is a preposterous, physical impossibility for many reasons, which ought to be self-evident to any sensible person. The question of honor aside, the management of the great show named believe it to be sound and profitable business policy to do as they advertise and to always and everywhere treat their patrons justly and impartially. In the long run it does not pay to omit promised features or acts, or to curtail performances, and the Walter L. Main enterprise is organized to stay and has stood on its own merits for a quarter of a century, under the one and same management, which is more than any other circus can claim, and it is recognized as the oldest Big Show with the newest features of all traveling exhibitions.

Two performances, at 2 and 8 p. m, Doors open an hour earlier. Seating capacity, 10,000; 25 uniformed ushers. Grandest and biggest tents ever seen, absolutely water and sun-proof.

Death and Funeral of Mrs. Rebecca Y Lewis.

On Friday evening at half past eleven o'clock the peaceful angel of death entered the home of Mrs. Rebecca Y. Lewis on Logan street, and carried her spirit life away into the realms of glory. Two years ago she contracted gangrene, but she has only been confined to her bed the past two weeks. Had Mrs. Lewis lived until the 5th day of June. She would have been 79 years of age. She was born in Huntingdon county June 5th 1823. Her husband the late John Lewis proceded her to the grave shortly after the civil war. She was the oldest member of the Methodist Episcopal Church of Bellefonte and when in health she was always found at this place of worship. She died rejoicing in the same faith she lived. She leaves to mourn her death one brother Perry C. Steele Sr., and one sister Mrs. Joseph Twitmyer, both of Bellefonte.

The funeral services were held Monday morning from the Methodist church on Spring street; Rev. Wilford Shriner D. D. officiated. The music was impressive and pretty and was rendered by Mrs. Brachbill, Mrs. S. D. Ray Messrs Philip Waddle and Lewis A. Schaeffer. The casket bearers where H. H. Harshberger, C. C. Shuey, John I. Olewine, and Andy Bell. Interment was made in the Union Cemetery.

Summer Plans for the Y. M. C. A.

The popularity of the Young Men's Christian Association under the management of the General Secretary Frank H. Gamel is constantly growing and many improvements, are being added for the benefit of the young men of Bellefonte who congregate there in large numbers. Everything is in spick-span order and as neat and clean as can be. The reading rooms are provided with comfortable chairs and all the latest and best literature.

On the second floor are two rooms fitted up in excellent shape for amateur photography. All the conveniences are close at hand and the dark room is one of the best in town. The young men are talking of forming a camera club.

The athletic features of the Y. M. C. A., are not forgotten either for in the rear where the old gymnasium stood they have erected a hand ball court and Basket ball court. They also have a fencing club organized which has twenty members. They are also agitating the forming of a camping out club for the summer months.

Fabulous Fortune in Mining.

It is almost incredible to the average conservative mind that gold in such enormous quantities is being taken out of the north. Since the discoveries of gold in British Columbia over $100,000,000 in virgin gold has been mined, 90 per cent of which has come from the remarkable placer mines, in the Atlin & Caribou district. From the Yucon territory, this season comes upwards of $40,000,000, the majority of this gold has been taken out by the most primitive methods and by individual miners who have endured the hardship of the northern clime, leaving the charms and convenience of civilization behind.

The real mine is the most valuable possessions in the world especially the gold mine for when the precious metal is taken out of the ground it is not necessary to seek a market, for it is its own market and has no competition.

Recently O. T. Switzer of Philipsburg returned from British Columbia, after a four years sojourn in that country he has succeeded in acquiring probably the most valuable placer mine in the world, on the richest creek in the country his property comprises 1280 acres on Pine Creek being 5 miles of the creek from its mouth where it empties into Atlin Lake and extending toward its source. He has organized a corporation which controlls and owns all of this property and a small amount of the stock is being sold in order to place up on the property the modern inland dredge over 30000 has been spent in prospecting this large discovery and the proved values are from 10 to 56 per cubic yard. The dredge will dig 5000 cubic yards of dirt every 24 hours at a cost of 5cent per yard this stock will pay enormous dividend and will last a life time. The Banking and Brokerage firm of Benj C. Warnick & Co., Bullitt Building, Phila. are the fiscal agents for the Company and any application made to them for some of this stock will receive immediate attention, a small amount of the full paid non-assessable capital stock is being sold for 50 cents per share par value a dollar no subscription received for over 2000 or less than 100 shares. Four of the most prominent men in business and financial circles in Philadelphia are at the head of this enterprise and the proposition will stand the closest and most rigid investigation.

Walter L. Main's Great Show's Street Parade.

Two complete unabridged performances of the above named stupendous shows at Bellefonte Wednesday, June 4, will be preceded by a marvelous morning parade of unprecedented magnitude and attractiveness, which it will cost nothing to witness, and no one should miss seeing the superb spectacular splendors of new, striking and elegant innovations, which is proclaimed to be an overwhelming highway demonstration. Among the rarest and most conspicuous features of the bewildering march will be the two biggest herds of elephants, camels and dromedaries, trained lions, tigers, leopards, groups of the finest educated horses and ponies in the world, acting monkeys, dogs and donkeys, etc., a great menagerie of wild and savage beasts in magnificent wide-open and performing dens and cages. The grandest horse display ever seen, embracing 500 head of the best breeds, all selected from the finest stock and models of the perfect horse, regally caparisoned. The astonishing South African caravan. The only pair of lion slayers in captivity. The only white Filipino bull ever captured alive. An army of brightly armored and richly arrayed participants, scores of colossal golden chariots, tableaux and elfin allegories, cute clowns and merrymakers of all descriptions; five military bands, jubilee singers, etc., which will be the most extravagantly grand gala day demonstration ever beheld, and takes place at 10 o'clock in the morning.

Grand free exhibition will be given immediately after the parade on the show grounds, and among the most sensational feature of the day, "The Girl with the Auburn Hair," will make two dives from a tower 100 feet high into a small net at 11 a. m. and 6:30 p. m. The most thrilling and fascinating feat ever witnessed.

TWO HERDS OF MAMMOTH ELEPHANTS.

The Great Walter L. Main—The Best Trained Elephants Ever Shown and Other Features.

One of the most stupendous and interesting sights of a circus that is given least consideration and which is entitled to more than passing notice is the educational value thereof, aside from the amusement features. A child is sent to school and the average youth or youngster finds as most interesting the study of natural history. It dotes on the lordly, ferocious lion; it is amused by the Lilliputian monkey; it marvels on the monstrousness of the elephant, and worries over the pronunciation of "hippopotamus." A test will vouch for the statement that one object lesson is of more value than a hundred of book lessons. The gigantic menagerie of Walter L. Main's big shows affords the only possible opportunity for a child to study in life the animals whose pictures they are wont to see in their school books. Consequently the enormous educational amusement institution will appear in Bellefonte Wednesday June 4.

Death of Mrs. George P. Shaffer.

Mrs. Ametta Shaffer, wife of George P. Shaffer, died suddenly Tuesday forenoon at 9 o'clock of heart failure at her home in Lock Haven, aged 63 years.

She is survived by her husband and the following children: I. L., of Chicago; James F., of Albert Lea, Minn.; G. F., of Minneapolis, Minn.; S. W., of Elizabeth, N. J.; Mrs. W. P. Peck, of Jeanette, Pa.; Mrs. C. E. Lamm, of Williamsport, and Mrs. G. W. Mader, of Lock Haven.

Mrs. Shaffer was born at Rebersburg, Centre county, but had lived most of her life in Lock Haven. She had been a member of the Lutheran church since childhood and was a member of St. John's church, Lock Haven. She was an active member of the W. R. C. and had been elected a delegate to represent that organization at the meeting in Gettysburg next week.

The Junior Oratorical Contest.

The date of holding the Junior Oratorical contest by students of the Bellefonte High school has been changed from June 4 to Monday evening June 2nd. It will be held in Petrikin Hall. The reason for changing the date is on account of the circus which appears here on Wednesday June 4th. It was deemed inadvisable to hold the oratorical contest on the same evening as the circus.

For Sweet Charity's Sake.

On Friday evening, May 30. Judge A. O. Furst, of Bellefonte, will lecture on the celebrated "Passion Play" in the Mt. Bethel Evadgelical church, near Parvin, for the benefit of the Evangelical congregation, whose church was burned in the disastrous fire at Clintondale a few weeks ago. Twenty-five cents admission will be charged for adults and fifteen cents for children.

Notice.

On account of the Walter L. Main circus Wednesday, June 4th, the Bellefonte Central Railroad Company will run a special train from Red Bank and Scotia to Bellefonte, leaving Red Bank and Scotia at 7:45 a. m. Returning, leave Bellefonte at 4:15 p. m., after the afternoon performance. Fare for round trip, 75 cents.

THE KING SNAKE.

He Is the Deadly Enemy of Every Poisonous Reptile.

Of all kind provisions of nature perhaps the manner in which snakes are brought into the world is the most remarkable. As a rule all harmless snakes are hatched from eggs, arriving in batches of from thirty to eighty. The poisonous snakes, on the other hand, are born in litters of from seven to eleven in number. There are exceptions to the rule, of course, but they are few and unimportant, for, though the deadly king cobra lays her eggs to be hatched by the sun, they are few in number, unlike the colonies deposited by the harmless snakes.

Chief among the enemies of the snakes are the reptiles themselves. Cannibalism is general among the creatures, the smaller snake serving as food to the larger one. But chief of all snakes that hunt their own kind for the pleasure of slaughter is the long, slender king snake, a constrictor by habit and a flash in his movements. Among all reptiles the king snake alone may truly be said to be the friend of man. He is found throughout the whole south, where the rattler and moccasin abound, sunning himself and preying for slaughter. Picked up by human hand, the reptile seems pleased with the touch. He makes no effort to escape, but twines about his captor's arm and makes himself comfortable.

To the rattlesnake and to every other dangerous snake, large or small, the king snake is a terror. The poison of a rattler has no more effect on him than so much moonshine. Instinctively the rattler knows his match and at sight of a king snake tries to escape, if possible. In fight the king snake relies wholly upon his incredible speed. If the movements of an ordinary snake seem quick to the human eye, the movements of a king snake would seem instantaneous. In a twinkle the long, lank fellow has wound himself about the throat of an antagonist and, his sinewy coils closing about the other's throat, chokes the wind out of him.—New York Times.

DOUBTFUL RUMORS.

And Still Scores of Bellefonte people accept them as facts.

The published statement of some stranger residing in a far-away place may be true enough, but it is generally accepted as a doubtful rumor. How can it be verified! The testimony which follows is convincing proof because it comes from a resident of Bellefonte.

Mrs. F. Davis of Logan street, says:—"Doan's Kidney pills did more towards freeing me from terrible pains in my back than any other medicine ever did. I had taken so many kinds and so many prescriptions without one perceptible gain that I was unprepared for the improvement, I received from taking Doan's Kidney pills. I read statements about Bellefonte people who had been cured by their use and I got them at F. Potts Green's drug store. After taking them I felt so well that I walked down town with my husband, something I had not done for two years. I highly recommend Doan's Kidney pills to others suffering from their back and kidneys. I have more confidence in them than in and physicians perscriptions."

PROF. J. ANGEL

AN EXPERT

Eye Specialist!

of Williamsport, will make his monthly visit here

ONE DAY ONLY,

Thurs. June 26,

from 9 a. m. to 9 p. m., with headquarters at

THE GARMAN HOUSE

Bellefonte, Pa.

I can examine your eyes at your home, by appointment, without extra charge.

If you need me at your home drop me a line in care of Garman House.

Hundreds are going blind daily, from the need of the proper prescribed glasses and from delaying attention to the eyes from time to time. Nothing will destroy your eyesight quicker than cheap glasses or glasses not properly fitted to your eyes.

Prof. Angel, in the short time he has been visiting this section, has met with marked success. Scores of leading citizens of this community have found relief from his treatment. It is not necessary to travel to Eastern cities for treatment when you can consult an eminent oculist at home.

LAMP WICKS.

The Multitude of Styles Causes Trouble For Storekeepers.

"You wouldn't think that people would bother to exchange a little thing like a lamp wick," said a clerk in a general supply store, "but the fact is that we are asked to take back yards of the stuff.

"Indeed, of all the commodities we handle none gives us more trouble than lamp wicks. There are at present about a thousand different kinds of lamps and oil stoves on the market, each with different sized burners, which naturally require as many different kinds of wick. We carry an endless variety; still we cannot supply the wants of our customers. This is pretty much their own fault, however, for instead of examining the old wick and finding out just what they need before they leave home they merely guess at its measurements, and when I ask what size they want they say:

"'Oh, about so big!'

"They leave me to go the rest of the way blindly. As a consequence I often make mistakes, and the next day they bring the wick back and want to exchange it for something that will fit the burner. If they have taken the precaution to learn what they want, we accommodate them, even though the returned wick does smell to heaven with oil. Through pursuing this policy we now have hundreds of yards of wick on our hands that we can never dispose of, but this question of lamp wicks is so complex that there seems no remedy for the difficulty."—New York Times.

In the Art Gallery.

"Ah," exclaimed Mrs. Oldcastle, who was again enjoying the splendors of her new neighbors' art gallery, "a Corot, I see!"

"Where?" asked her hostess, looking doubtfully at the canvas which seemed to claim the other's attention.

"There," answered Mrs. Oldcastle, pointing with her lorgnette.

"Well, now, I declare. I can't see a single crow anywhere around. You don't mean them little black spots in the left hand corner, do you? Them's clouds!"—Chicago Record-Herald.

The Limit of Chivalry.

There was once a man who zealously declared that woman has no right to invade the field of wage earning men. She should stay at home, where she belonged.

Finally his four sisters, three cousins and two aunts, who were without a masculine protector, gathered about him and inquired:

"Whose home? Yours?"

Whereat he perceived that theory ends where fact begins.—Philadelphia Ledger.

The Good and the Bad.

One ought to balance the good with the bad and also the length of time a man has lived to form a true estimate of his character. Polybius, the Greek historian, has an observation to the same effect. "There is no reason," says he, "why we should not sometimes blame and sometimes commend the same person, for, as none is always right, neither is it probable that he should be always wrong."

FARMER JOE'S SPEECH.

It Was Short, but It Crushed the Bumptious Youngster.

"You may get the better of an opponent in debate," said an old time orator, "by sheer force of convincing argument—that is to say, you may score and win on points—but if you want to put your man down and out at a single coup just make him ridiculous. Only succeed in doing this, and all the logic of the other side will explode in vacancy like so many blank cartridges.

"Once when I was serving a term up the state in the legislature a bumptious youngster who had just been introduced was laboring through his maiden effort. He was attacking a man who was his senior by at least a score and ten years and thought to make a hit by referring to him as 'that little graybeard from Herkimer.' Rymal of Niagara rose to reply. He was an old timer, who never spoke unless he had something to say and so was always sure of an attentive audience. Farmer Joe, as he was called, got up slowly, gradually expanded himself to his full height of 6 feet 4, thrust his left hand behind the tails of a capacious and somewhat shabby frock coat, held up the index finger of his right hand, cleared his throat ominously and solemnly began:

"'Mr. Speaker, the honorable gentleman who has just spoken has never read Pope's essay. If he had, he would remember that the "soul's the standard of the man." And, sir, fifty such souls as that of the honorable gentleman who preceded me could be put into the skull of a flea and have as much room there as two frogs in Lake Superior.'

"He didn't have to say more. The chamber went into a convulsion of laughter which lasted for several minutes after the tall farmer had resumed his seat. As for the youngster, he did the best he could. He wriggled about, got red in the face, tried to look unconcerned and kept his mouth closed during the balance of the session."—New York News.

The Scepter.

The scepter was the emblem of power. As the silver wand, so familiar in cathedrals, was once hollow, containing the "virge" or rod with which chastisement was inflicted upon the choristers and younger members of the foundation, so the royal scepter represented the right to inflict punishment. Hence the expression "to sway the scepter" implied the holding of regal dignity. The scepter with the dove possessed the additional signification of the Holy Ghost, as controlling the actions of the sovereign. The same idea was conveyed at Reims by the beautiful ceremony of letting loose a number of doves at the coronation of the French kings.—Good Words.

Crushed.

"You talk mighty glib about the corruption in this ward," interrupted a sallow faced man in the audience. "What business is it of yours? Have you got any permanent investments in this ward?"

"Yes, I have!" thundered the orator. "Fellow citizens, I once lent that man a dollar."

He was not interrupted again.—Chicago Tribune.

—Bellefonte was crowded with farmers Saturday who came here to take away with them the agricultural implements purchased by them from the Deering Company through the agency of L. H. Musser of Fillmore, Centre county. Mr. Musser entertained the farmers and their wives at dinner at the Bush House and at two o'clock there was a parade of farmers through the principal streets of the town. All the wagons were loaded down with implements purchased from the Deering Company. The parade was headed by the Zion band. A feature of the parade that attracted much attention was Master Eddy Daley with his pony cart and little black pony. Seated with him in the cart were Mr. Musser's little daughter and little George Pat Garis.

Growing Bananas.

Bananas are as a rule planted out systematically in rows, the "suckers" being placed at an average of ten feet apart. The banana plant bears only one bunch at a time, but it is a quick grower, yielding its fruit in twelve to fourteen months. When the plant is about six months old, a second "sucker" or shoot is allowed to spring from the root, a third after the ninth month, and so on, so that after the first year there is a continuous crop being reaped.

His Failings.

Bliffkins is always talking about how smart he is. It is his worst failing."

"Not by a good deal."

"What does he do worse than that?"

"He talks about how smart his baby is."—San Francisco Bulletin.

Three Rules For Fishing.

One day as the Rev. Mark Guy Pearse of London was strolling along a river bank he saw an old man fishing for trout and pulling the fish out one after the other briskly. "You manage it cleverly, old friend," he said. "I have passed a good many below who don't seem to be doing anything."

The old man lifted himself up and stuck his rod in the ground. "Well, you see, sir, there be three rules for fishing, and 'tis no good trying it if you don't mind them. The first is, Keep yourself out of sight; the second is, Keep yourself further out of sight, and the third is, Keep yourself further out of sight still. Then you'll do it."

Hastings Abroad During Campaign.

Saturday's North American contains the following dispatch dated Bellefonte.

Former Governor Hastings will take no part in either the state or local political fight this year, though he recently expressed himself in favor of Pennypacker for the head of the State ticket.

The Governor returned Friday afternoon from a trip through Cambria county, and when seen by The North American correspondent last night and asked if the report were true that he would take an active part in the present campaign he said:

"I am going with my family to Europe in a few days to take a vacation. I am busy closing up my business affairs, so as to permit of two or three months' absence I cannot, therefore, take any part in the local political contest in Centre county for delegates to the State convention or for county offices.

"I am very happy, very busy, and very much contented in my private pursuits."

The Hastings family will sail for Europe about the first week in June.

BANNER SALVE,
best healing salve in the world.
C. M. Parrish.

—John Robinson's show which will be in Tyrone Monday, is having a mixed of a time. The dispatches announce the collapse of the big tent at Ridgeway Thursday night. Wednesday at Warren during the street parade the gate on a cage wagon containing two wild Russian bears flew open. The vicious animals leaped from the wagon into a closely packed crowd along the curb. A panic and crush ensued, in which several women fainted. The bears ran amuck, spreading consternation in their path. Two great Danes were soon on their trail and run their quarry to the river bank, where, after a lively fight one was captured. The other swam the river and disappeared in a swamp.

A Revelation.

If you will make inquiry it will be a revelation to you how many succumb to kidney or bladder troubles in one form or another. If the patient is not beyond medical aid, Foley's Kidney Cure will cure. It never disappoints. C. M. Parrish.

CREED REVISION.

Presbyterian General Assembly Adopts the Report of the Committee

THERE WAS LITTLE DEBATE

The Various Changes Proposed Now go to the Various Presbyteries for Ratification.

GREAT CROWD IN ATTENDANCE

NEW YORK, May 22.—The general assembly of the Presbyterian church adopted the report of the committee on creed revision, making changes in the Confession of Faith. This action, which was practically unanimous, was taken with little or no debate. The changes proposed will now go to the various presbyteries for ratification.

The Rev. Dr. James D. Moffatt then moved the adoption of the eleven overtures to be sent to the presbyteries.

The Rev. Dr. Henry C. Milton, chairman of the revision committee, spoke for the report. He would not, he said argue the merits of the whole report, but would speak of the especial consideration which influences the committee. They were guided, in the first place, by the work of the committee of 1892. The present presumption, of course, was always in the way of explicit orders of the last year's assembly. There were two elements on the committee, he explained those who preferred to make all amendments by verbal modifications, and those who wished to made the changes by separate declaratory statements. Obviously there had to be some yielding, and it was not all on one side. "The misapprehensions as to the Confession," continued Dr. Minton, "have come from two causes. First, the unguarded statements in the Confession itself, and second, unwarranted inferences from the Confession. It the first case, verbal changes would be the remedy. In the second, declaratory statements were necessary."

Dr. Minton then took up the various points on which the committee had been asked to pass.

"Regarding the pope of Rome," he said, "the Confession distinctly says the pope is the anti-Christ and the son of perdition. Now, if that was true, and if we want to say it—let it stand. If not true, or if true, and we do not wish to say it—take it ont.

"I may believe that the pope is anti-Christian on general principles. I am quite willing to declare in the face of the vatican, or the whole world, for that matter, that the pope, using the crown rights of Jesus Christ, is anti-Christ and the son of perdition. The committee followed the only proper course to pursue, by broadening the statement. Dr Minton resented the accusation brought that the Presbyterian church believed in infant damnation.

"The critics and enemies of the Presbyterian church have rolled it under their tongues as a sweet morsel that we believe in infant damnation. We resent the accusation that this chapter contemplates any such interpretation."

Dr, Minton was loudly applauded when he closed.

The Rev. Dr. Moffatt urged the assembly, in a brief address, to decide the question by a vote to adopt.

The Rev. Dr. R. Russell Booth, of this city, who has been known as a strong anti-revisionist, asked the assembly to adopt unanimously and at once the report. As he closed his short remarks there came loud cries of "question," "question," from all over the assembly.

The Rev. Dr. Fleming G. Railey, of Kissimee, Fla., opposed revision. "I am against the adoption of the report, he said, "I have never found any difficulty with the old standards. They have lighted the way for me and mine across the river, all the way. I feel that this revision is but the entering wedge, and how far it will go no one can tell." Here the speaker broke down and wept. The question was then put and the resolution ordering the report published was carried with only two dissenting votes.

Mr. Richard S. Holmes, of Pittsburg, said he represented the conservation element of the church. He said he had only voiced the sentiments of that element when he asked the assembly for the unanimous adoption of the supplementary report.

The entire report was adopted and the session was closed with an impressive devotional service in which Rev. Dr. Johnson, of Chicago, and the Rev. Dr. Dickey offered prayer and Dr. R. R. Booth, of this city, pronounced the benediction.

WIT OF LATE BARNUM.

Walter L. Main Relates a Brief Story About the Once Famous Circusman.

"P. T. Barnum, who died some years ago," remarked Walter L. Main, proprietor and manager of the Great Walter L. Main big railroad shows, which will appear in Bellefonte Wednesday, June 4th, "saw at a glance some good that might be got out of every misfortune that befel him. His fires, which had been numerous and disastrous, made him famous, and he rose above the smoke and ruins like a phoenix. He was a man who stood high in his own town and had been chosen the chief executive officer of Bridgeport more than once. Barnum used to visit his show only occasionally, but his coming was heralded as a great event and the place he visited was selected where it would do the show the most good. He was a keen observer and quite a witty man. At Erie, Pa., he visited his show, and, while sitting in the Brown's hotel office, was called upon by a rural gentleman who had come a long way to see the procession but was sorely disappointed when he found it fell short of his expectations. He said to Mr. Barnum: "I think your show is a fraud and you are a big humbug. You have advertised a league of princely grandeur and your procession was not over a mile long." "Well," said Mr. Barnum, it was a mile long, was it not?"" Yes, I guess it was a mile long but a mile ain't a league," said he. "Well, there is a mile of it, anyway, you admit," said Barnum. "And wasn't there two miles of d—d fools following it?"

Death of Robert Mann.

Robert Mann, the well known axe manufacturer formerly of Mill Hall but late of Philadelphia, died in that city Tuesday evening of heart failure.

Robert Mann was born near Watertown, June 13, 1824. When 14 years old his parents removed from New York state to Bellefonte. Here Robert received his first schooling.

The Mann family are the most extensive manufacturers of axes in the world, and their name is known in all parts of the globe, the quality of their output being considered the best.

Robert Mann and Miss Christina Reesman were married in 1849. Mrs. Mann died in 1897, but the following named children still survive: Mrs. A. B. Garth, A. C. and W. H., of Mill Hall; Thomas R., of Boulder, Col. and Joseph R. and Robert, jr., of Lewistown.

The remains were taken to Mill Hall where the interment took place Friday afternoon.

Sale of Nittany Iron Co.'s Bonds.

Thursday morning at 11 a.m. Mr. W. M. Grelsby, of Harrisburg, representing the Commonwealth Trust and Safe Deposit Company of that city, offered at public sale in front of the Court House $30,000 worth of gold bearing 5 per cent bonds of the new Nittany Iron Company. These mature in 1903, 1904, 1905 and 1906.

There were originally $45,000 worth of these bonds but $15,000 were taken by the old stockholders of the Valentine Iron Company, which left $30,000 to sell. Of this lot $1,500 worth were sold to John P. Harris at 99 per cent., while the balance of $28,500 were sold to the 1st First National Bank of Harrisburg at 95 per cent. All these bonds will now go to par.

Ex-Sheriff William Ishler was the auctioneer.

What Thin Folks Need

New Railroad Schedule.

The spring and summer time table on the Pennsylvania Railroad went into effect Sunday, May 25th, 1902.

There are no changes in passenger trains arriving or leaving Bellefonte. The connections at Tyrone, Lock Haven and Montandon remain unchanged.

—There is a case of smallpox in the contageous disease hospital at Altoona. J. M. Johnson, aged 19, son of a widow in Altoona, was working in Clareton, Allegheny county. Being ill he left for his home in Altoona on a freight train Sunday night. By the time he arrived in that city the marks of smallpox were visible on his face. He went to his home informed his mother of his illness but did not enter the house. He then hunted up the health officer, avoiding contact with people, and the officer secured a cab and conveyed him to the hospital.

Half and Half.

The dyspeptic may well be represented pictorially as being half masculine and half feminine, and combining the least desirable characteristics of either sex. He has all the stubbornness of the man with the peevish irritability of a sick woman. He's not pleasant company at home or abroad.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery cures dyspepsia and other diseases of the stomach and associated organs of digestion and nutrition. It renews physical health which carries with it cheerfulness of temper, and makes life a pleasure instead of a penance.

The "Discovery" purifies the blood by eliminating the corrupt and poisonous accumulations from which disease is bred. It increases the activity of the blood-making glands, so increasing the supply of pure rich blood, which gives life to every organ of the body. It gives new life and new strength.

"Your 'Golden Medical Discovery' has performed a wonderful cure," writes Mr. M. H. House, of Charleston, Franklin Co., Ark. "I had the worst case of dyspepsia, the doctors say, that they ever saw. After trying seven doctors and everything I could hear of, with no benefit, I tried Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and now I am cured."

Accept no substitute for "Golden Medical Discovery." There is nothing "just as good" for diseases of the stomach, blood and lungs.

The Common Sense Medical Adviser, 1008 large pages in paper covers, is sent free on receipt of 21 one-cent stamps to pay expense of mailing only. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

Death of a Former Centre County Lady.

Mrs Mary Eilert died at the home of her son, Thomas at Dakota, Stephenson county, Ill., on Saturday, aged nearly 98 years. She was buried on Monday. The maiden name of the deceased was Mary Kryder and she was born on Oct. 19, 1804, in Haines township, Centre county, Pa. Her parents were Judge and Mrs. Jacob Kryder who were among the respected residents of that township. Mrs. Eilert had three brothers and nine sisters, all of whom are dead with the exception of Mrs. James Evans, of Spring Mills. In December, 1823, she was married to Michael Eilert at Aaronsburg, Pa, where they resided until 1843, when they went west and located near Rock City, Stephenson county. Three sons were born to them, Jacob, Henry and Thomas the first two, however, died some years ago, Jacob at Monroe, Wis., and Henry in California. She has several grandchildren and great grandchildren. Since the death of her husband in 1853 Mrs. Eilert made her home almost continously with her son, Thomas, first at Rock City, and later at Dakota.

Ex-Attorney General McCormick Ill

WILLIAMSPORT, May 23.—H. C. McCormick, ex-Attorney General and one of the best known lawyers in Pennsylvania, is very seriously ill at his home here. After a consultation of Physicians Thursday evening it was announced that his condition is critical.

General McCormick returned a week ago from an outing on Senator Cochran's plantation in Virginia. While there he developed a vegetable poisoning which affected his leg, and on his return he submitted to a surgical operation. His kidneys have been involved which adds seriousness to the case.

Dangerous if Neglected.

Burns, cuts and other wounds often fail to heal properly if neglected and become troublesome sores. DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve prevents such consequences. Even where delay has aggravated the injury DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve effects a cure. "I had a running sore on my leg thirty years," says H. C. Hartly, Yankeetown, Ind. "After using many remedies, I tried DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve. A few boxes healed the sore." Cures all skin diseases. Piles yield to it at once. Beware of counterfeits. C. M. Parrish.

Wisconsin Creamery Patron Fined.

Martin Olein, of the town of Sigel, paid $25 and cost yesterday in Justice Hirth's court for adding water to the milk he delivered at a creamery. His defense was that the hired girl spilled the milk and made up for shortage with water against his knowledge. C. M. Sweeting, deputy dairy and food commissioner, preferred the charge.

—John R. Stiver aged 75 years, a farmer residing at Martha Furnace, had his left hand almost torn away Tuesday by the premature explosion of a blast. While tamping in the powder the blast went off, tearing and lacerating his left hand and breaking the thumb. He was taken to Altoona and admitted to the hospital, where it was found necessary to amputate the first finger.

—Charlie Fisher a young man aged 22 years, met a terrible death at Helvetia Monday. He was thrown from the back of a mule he was riding and his foot caught in part of the harness; the mule started on a run for the barn and he was literally dragged to death. His being thrown was the result of the animal taking a balky spell.

BURIED UNDER ASHES

ANOTHER ERUPTION MONDAY

Red Hot Boulders Fall Upon the Dismantled Houses—Island's Populace is Fleeing.

FUNERAL OF CONSUL PRENTIS

FORT DE FRANCE, Island of Martinique, May 20.—Yesterday's eruption from Mount Pelee, which broke out at 5 o'clock in the morning, was ten times as violent as that which destroyed St. Pierre. Colossal columns of volcanic matter were ejected from the volcano, which rained huge, red hot boulders, many feet in diameter, on the ruins of St. Pierre and the country near it, from an enormous elevation and with fearful velocity. The volcanic clouds advanced until they reached Fort de France.

The spectacle was appalling and sublime beyond description. The whole population of Fort de France was thrown into a frenzy of panic, during which soldiers, police, men and women, all terrified, frantic, weeping and praying, rushed through the streets, while overhead, the glowing, fiery clouds, rolled relentlessly and rained down stones, still hot, amid the swirling ashes.

The steam launch of the United States cruiser Cincinnati took some refugees to the French cruiser Suchet and a hundred persons sought refuge on the Cincinnati and on the United States special steamer Potomac.

At 10 o'clock the Potomac went to investigate matters and all reports agree that Lieutenant Benjamin B. McCormick, the commander of the steamer, did great work. He went in close to St. Pierre and found that city had been bombarded with enormous stones from the volcano and that the ruins left standing after the first great disaster had been nearly razed. Millions of tons of ashes then covered the ruined city.

Further south smaller stones had destroyed the houses of the brave villagers who had stuck to their homes.

Lieutenant McCormick took on board the Potomac 180 refugees, the oldest of whom was 72 years and the youngest 3 days old. The lieutenant fed them and brought the party to Fort de France, This work of rescue was difficult and dangerous.

Funeral services over the remains of Thomas T. Prentis, the late United States consul at St. Pierre, were held yesterday. Commander McLean, of the United States cruiser Cincinnati, officiated, and the officers of the war vessels in port, the mariners and sailors. Acting Consul Ayme and many citizens were present. The funeral cortege passed between rows of people, who bared their heads to the flag covering the coffin. The remains of the consul are now buried under an acacia tree in the cemetery here.

Return Addressed Envelopes.

The many young people, of this city, who sent letters to the Van Kirk & Robbins' firm, of Wilesbarre, will be interested to learn that the postmaster of that city has received the first official order regarding the government's decision in the case of the endless chain letter firm. He was notified that the scheme was fraudulent and that the letters must be returned to the senders or sent to the dead letter office.

Work was begun in the afternoon on the pile. There are some 75,000 and the four clerks expect to finish the work within a week. These letters, it is estimated contain about $100,000 in money orders. Those which have returned addresses on the envelopes will be sent direct to the writers and the money order amounts will be returned at the office at issue. The others will be sent to the dead letter office, there opened and readdressed to the senders. All will have stamped across the face the word fraudulent.

Only about 15,000 of the letters have return addresses and the dead letter office will have a great task in opening and remailing the other 60,000. The letters continue to arrive at the rate of about 1,500 a day.

The attorney of the firm said that he does not believe the government will prosecute the two men. Protested checks are increasing at the banks and hundreds of letters of inquiry are arriving.

Clerks and Carriers Examination.

The United States Civil Service Commission announces that on June 11, 1902, an examination will be held in this city for the positions of clerk and carrier in the Post-Office Service.

This examination offers an excellent opportunity for entering the Federal service to bright, energetic young persons who are not afraid of hard work, and the Commission hopes that a large number of intelligent, active persons will present themselves for this examination. It may be stated that there is a wider field for advancement upon merit in the Federal service than in many private employments.

The nature of the examination is a test of practical, general intelligence, and of adaptability in post-office work. The age limitations for this examination are as follows:

All persons, 18 to 45 years.

All persons who have been examined for the position of clerk or carrier within the past year and failed to pass may be re-examined upon filing new applications in due time.

All applicants, male and female, must have the medical certificate in Form 101 executed. Male applicants must be at least 5ft. 4in. in height, and weigh not less than 125 pounds.

The names of all male eligibles will be entered on both the clerk and the carriers registers, and appointment from either register will remove the eligible's name from both registers.

This examination is held to secure eligibles for appointment to existing or future vacancies in the grade of substitute.

This examination is open to all citizens of the United States who comply with the requirements. Competitors will be rated without regard to any consideration other than the qualifications shown in their examination papers, and eligibles will be certified strictly in accordance with the civil service law and rules.

For application blank (Form 101), full instructions, specimen examination questions, and information relative to the duties and salaries of the different positions, application should be made to the undersigned.

Applications may be filed with the secretary of the local board as late as 9 a. m. on June 11. 1902.

Secretary Postal Board.

Hood Farm Auction Sale of Jerseys and Berkshires.

Hood Farm Lowell Mass., is so well known to the readers of this paper that it is not necessary to go in to details in regard to the high quality of the stock owned at that great breeding establishment. June 11 and 15, 1902, they will sell to the highest bidder 180 head of Jersey cattle and 125 Berkshire hogs. This is the greatest sale of the kind ever held in New England. There is such a large number and many of the calves are so young, that those who do not wish to pay the high prices usually brought by registered stock will be able to get some very desirable individuals at a great bargain. Every dairyman and farmer can afford to get something to enrich his herd either a bull, a heifer or a pig. It is the opportunity of a lifetime. Those who cannot go but have friends who will attend should commision them to use their judgement in selecting something from those famous herds. The catalogue, which Hood Farm has published, gives a great deal of information to those interested in Jerseys and Berkshires, and it is a work of art. It will be sent to all who write for it.

GRAND MUSICAL FESTIVAL.

Professer Carl Neal and his superb band will give an admirable concert in the Great Walter L. Main arena one hour previous to the starting of the magnificent triple-ring circuses. Much enjoyment may be expected from the grand concerts by Professor Neal and his noted musicians. This famous organization, which commanded so much critical and popular approval by its artistic and stirring performances at the Exposition at Buffalo, has gained new laurels by the admirable manner in which it has entertained thousands of music-lovers throughout the country during its present tour with the Great Walter L. Main gigantic shows. It is more of a concert than a military band and for this reason is able to present more varied and interesting programs than ever seen with a circus. In presenting this great innovation, however, one thing should be distinctly understood—it is a grand, extra feature, gratuitously offered to the patrons of the tremendous Walter L. Main greatest and best shows on earth and in no sense curtailing or conflicting with the circus performance but adding immeasurably to the grandeur and effectiveness of this already gigantic enterprise. Remember, afternoon and night, for at least one hour before the arenic perfomances, these clever soloists will discourse charming strains of melody from opera to the latest ragtime craze. At Bellefonte Wednesday, June 4.

Stave Mill Burned.

A large stave mill belonging to W. B. Bitner, of Spring Mills, and located about four miles south of that place, was totally destroyed by fire Wednesday night. In addition to the mill, fully two car loads of staves were burned. An insurance agent visited Mr. Bitner on Monday, but no insurance was taken, the proprietor deferring action. The loss is about $1000. Mr. Bitner has not decided whether or not he will rebuild. The origin of the fire is unknown.

How To Gain Flesh

Persons have been known to gain a pound a day by taking an ounce of SCOTT'S EMULSION. It is strange, but it often happens.

Somehow the ounce produces the pound; it seems to start the digestive machinery going properly, so that the patient is able to digest and absorb his ordinary food, which he could not do before, and that is the way the gain is made.

A certain amount of flesh is necessary for health; if you have not got it you can get it by taking

Scott's Emulsion

You will find it just as useful in summer as in winter, and if you are thriving upon it don't stop because the weather is warm.

He will preach the Baccalaureate Sermon at State College in the morning of that day, and at the request of his friends, he has kindly consented to preach in Bellefonte in the evening. It is always a great pleasure to hear him, and Bellefonte has ever shown its high appreciation of Dr. Colfelt, and we bespeak for him a very large audience.

OUR NATION'S HEROES.

Interesting Services in Their Honor at the Lutheran Church.

The annual memorial day sermon to the members of Gregg Post, No. 95, G. A. R., was delivered Sunday morning at 10:30, in the Lutheran church, by its pastor, Rev. H. C. Holloway, D. D. The church was crowded to the doors and the greatest interest was manifested. The members of the G. A. R. marched to the church in a body and occupied the front seats.

The church was beautifully decorated with choice flowers and American flags. The large choir sang very beautifully the hymns "America" and "Onward, Christian Soldier."

The subject of Dr. Holloway's address was "Our Nation's Heroes" and his text was found in Joshua, 4th chapter and 6th and 7th verses : "What mean ye by these stones? Then shall ye answer them : these stones shall be a memorial unto the children of Israel forever. That all the people of the earth might know the hand of the Lord, that it is mighty; that ye might fear the Lord your God for ever."

Dr. Holloway spoke, in part, as follows :

God is to be glorified in his deeds of love and mercy, and also in his works of wonder and of power. This fact is set forth in a remarkable manner in the conduct of Joshua and the army of Israel in their march to the land of promise. In his campaign against Jericho, when he came to the Jordan the river parted and the children of Israel, the great army, passed over dry shod. In commemoration of this event the Lord directed Joshua to have one man from each tribe take up a stone, and having come to the other side, build there a monument. The reason for this was : That, when your children ask, in time to come, "What mean these stone ?" it shall be told them that the Lord showed his favor to the children of Israel : "That all the people of the earth might know the hand of the Lord, that it is mighty, and that ye might fear the Lord your God for ever."

Some things are worth memorializing. And in the midst of what many of you here know, what all that would mean, Joshua takes sacred and religious care to perpetuate the memorial and wonderful work of God in behalf of himself, his people and the nation of Israel, teaching the people and the nations still that however much they may have of project or of toil they should not forget nor omit their public and national acknowledgement of the Divine hand that builds and upholds their national house.

It does not belong to this memorial service to keep alive the animosities of the past; yet there can be no more appropriate day to emphasize the principles which the Union army defended and to publicly confess the faith which their blood sealed. The Union victory was not only a triumph of patriotism, it was a vindication of law and order.

* * * * * * * *

And now we pause. Memorial Day is the Nation's festival of remembrance, when a liberty-loving and happy people, enjoying the blessings of peace and prosperity (cease from their labors and) with grateful hearts pay loving tribute to the memory of brave men, who having "finished their course with honor," now rest peacefully "in the robings of glory." We would remember those who sleep in the Islands of the sea—in Cuba and the far off Philippines. Peace to their ashes.

Since last Memorial Day many who were with us then have answered Eternity's roll call, and newly-made graves will remind us that the artillery of time is still decimating your ranks. Today, leader and led sleep side by side. They who fell in the shock of battle and those who survived its carnage and afterwards lay quietly down in the sweet fields of peace are now the Nation's heroic dead, through whose valor and heroism our land was kept united and our flag maintained unsullied. Because of them the past is full of glory and the future full of hope. Sweet be their sleep, unfading their glory, imperishable their fame.

Go, then, on the coming Decoration Day, spread above them springtime's richest offerings. Wave above them the flag they loved. Let silvered old age, standing by their tomb, feel that with the dust of such men in our soil the future of our Republic is safe. Let trusting childhood weave garlands for them, and at their graves learn lessons that will keep them earnest in loyalty, pure in citizenship and faithful to duty. Reverence for the memory of the Nation's defenders will encourage in her sons and daughters a loyalty and patriotism that will insure safety. In this spirit and for the sake of generations that will suffer if our government should fail, let us in earnestness, sincerity and gratitude turn to the graves of our patriotic dead, there recall their services, extol their fidelity, emulate their virtues and renew our vow that the Nation that had a new birth of freedom and found her redemption in the blood of half a million of brave men, shall in patient painstaking and care be kept true and steadfast in her march for the emancipation of the world.

And to you, venerable and honored heroes of many battles, to you, we bring our affection and love. We revere you for your devotion to our country's cause and honor you as the instruments God has used to save our land in the day of its peril. May you have yet many years of blessing and enjoy the honors of true and loyal patriots. And having so nobly fought the battles of your country and achieved such blessed results, may you also be found faithful to the great Captain of your Salvation, and, in the end of your pilgrimage, go in peace to your rest, that remaineth, crowned with honor and glory and imperishable fame.

Memorial Day at Milesburg.

On last Sunday, May 25th, Post 261, Milesburg, attended divine service in the Presbyterian church in Milesburg. The Fire company of the town in full uniform and a number of Odd Fellows not in uniform accompanied the Post. The church was handsomely decorated with flags and flowers and was full to overflowing with the members of the organizations and people of the town and vicinity. The sermon was an eloquent one. It was delivered by Rev. Walter F. Carson, pastor of the church, his text being Psalms 33 : 10, 11. Previous to the sermon the Post held memorial services for the dead of the past year. Those who died during the year were William H. Graham, late captain of one of the companies of 148th Reg't, P. V., and James Kunes, late a corporal in one of the companies of 202 Reg't, P. V. Captain Graham died in Minnesota and Corporal Kunes on Wallace Run, this county. The entire service was very impressive.

On Memorial Day, May 30th, services will be held in the different cemeteries which Post 261 looks after on that day. At 8:30 a. m. Fairview cemetery, three miles north of Curtin, will be the first one visited. A short address will be delivered and some hymns sung by the Sunday Schools of the place. With music by the band the services will then be closed and those who take part in them will take up the line of march for the Advent church cemetery, three miles west of Fairview. Arriving there the exercises will open with singing by the Marsh Creek, Runville and Advent Church Sunday Schools. After the Grand Army services the address will be delivered by W. Harrison Walker, Esq., of Bellefonte. When all services are concluded a return to Milesburg will be the order of the day, where lunch will be served, and then another march will be made to Curtin cemeteries, three or more miles east. The Eagle Chapel Sunday School will be in attendance and will sing a selected piece of music. J. K. Johnston, Esq., of Bellefonte, will be introduced and deliver an address suitable to the occasion.

A return will then be made to Milesburg where the closing services of the day will be held in the old cemetery east of the town, and on which occasion David F. Fortney, Esq., will deliver the oration. When all has been done as laid down to do, the Sunday Schools, Odd Fellows, Knights of the Golden Eagle, P. O. S. A. and all other organizations will return to their respective rooms and churches.

The Curtin Cornet band will accompany the Post on the whole route and will render appropriate music for the day.

The services at Advent Church cemetery will be at 10 a. m., at Curtin at 1:30 p. m. and at Milesburg at 4:30 p. m.

A detail from the Post will visit the new cemetery near Milesburg at 10:30 a. m. and attend to the duty there.

Married on Tuesday Evening.

At 7:30 on Tuesday evening Miss Mary Kane and Mr. John Brown were united in the holy bonds of wedlock at Father McArdle's home on Bishop street. The bridesmaid was Miss Gertrude Dolan, of Buffalo, N. Y., and the best man was Mr. Daniel Nolan, of Bellefonte. After the ceremony was performed the bridal party were driven to the bride's home on Quaker Hill where a sumptuous wedding dinner awaited them. Only the immediate friends of the bride and groom attended the reception.

—John Robinson's circus, which played at Tyrone Monday had an increase in their menagerie Sunday. Their great Bengal tigress gave birth to three little tiger cubs and their little Arabian pony gave birth to a colt.
